

A Group of Londoners (Classic Reprint)

They draw nearer and then recede again; each trains the tail of his eye on the books which the other handles, hoping for a guide as to what his particular game may be; and each on finding something that he wants hastens to place it in safety (as near as possible to the spot where he found it, lest during his absence to a more distant cache the horrid competitor captures the district which he is in the midst of exploring). Thus we do suspect and hate each other, carrying on our struggle not with the openness and frank selfish barbarism of ladies during the Sales, but with a Uthe skilful furtive concealments of civilisation.(Typographical errors above are due to OCR software and dont occur in the book.)About the Publisher Forgotten Books is a publisher of historical writings, such as: Philosophy, Classics, Science, Religion, History, Folklore and Mythology.Forgotten Books Classic Reprint Series utilizes the latest technology to regenerate facsimiles of historically important writings.
