

Teller (The Rootworld Cycle Book 1)

Andin Teller can change the world with a pencil and paint brush. Teller isn't just his name. It's what he is someone who can manipulate memories, reality and even shift time with the right pencil line, paint stroke, or story. But it doesn't come without a cost, and he isn't alone. When he discovers his mother is part of an otherworldly organized crime family in the middle of a secret war and has been abducted by a rival family, Andin sets out to rescue her with his closest friends, Taryn, a mathematics and patterning genius, and down-to-earth, motorcycle-driving Itoshi. With their help, Andin navigates a world he doesn't understand, taking on family betrayers, killers, and others like himself others who have powers greater than his own.
