

Invasion of the Potato Chips

I.P. Freely is your normal, everyday mad scientist. You know the type: lives in the creepy old house, on the creepy old hill. The one kids make up ghost stories about, and say, Man, I guess Halloween is year-round for this guy. But one night (which just so happens to be Friday the thirteenth, and during a lunar eclipse), I.P. makes a machine that turns things alive. He tests it out on a potato chip. The machine works, but... the potato chip turns evil! Read this book, and see how the chip gathers an army of evil potato chips, and how they try to take over the world. Will they succeed? Or will they be stopped?
