

Hurrah for the Life of a Sailor: Fifty Years in the Royal Navy (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from Hurrah for the Life of a Sailor: Fifty Years in the Royal Navy Several years ago I wrote a series of articles for the Boys Own Paper, relating some of my adventures in the Navy, and my assortment of yarns was very favourably received by the juvenile public for whom it was written. I am consequently encouraged to expand these, bringing the story up to date, and illustrating the principal events, in the hope that they will make an interesting volume, and give some grown-up boys an idea of a sailors life and experiences during nearly fifty years in her Majestys service. The sporting pictures in the volume have been drawn from my rough sketches at the Studio of Design under the supervision of Mr Harry Furniss. I do not pretend to draw figures and animals sufficiently well for reproduction. Otherwise, the illustrations are my own, and most of them are original.
