

Paintings in Proust: A Visual Companion to in Search of Lost Time

A captivating, colorful examination of the ways in which Proust incorporated artists and the visual arts in his work. A la recherche du temps perdu by Marcel Proust is one of the most profoundly visual works in Western literature. Not only are there frequent references to specific works of art, notably during the narrators visits to Venice and in his evaluations of the style of the imaginary painter Elstir, but certain characters are also evoked by comparison to particular paintings. Blochs appearance as a boy is likened to the portrait of Mohammed II by Gentile Bellini; Odette de Crecy strikes Swann by her resemblance to a figure in a Botticelli fresco. Even the lesser figure of a certain Mme. Blatin becomes the subject of Proustian mischief by being described as exactly the portrait of Savonarola by Fra Bartolomeo. Eric Karpeles has identified and located the many paintings to which Proust makes reference; in other cases, where only a painters name is mentioned to indicate a certain style or appearance, Karpeles has chosen a representative work to illustrate the impression that Proust sought to evoke. With some 200 paintings beautifully reproduced in full color and texts drawn from the Moncrieff/Kilmartin/Enright translation, as well as concise commentaries on the novels evolving story, this book is an essential addition to the libraries of Proustians everywhere. The book also includes an authoritative introduction examining the various ways in which Proust used paintings and the arts to extend his descriptive vocabulary, and a comprehensive index of artists and paintings mentioned in the novel. 200 full-color paintings
