

The Real, Las Vegas, NV

Imagine that it is the year 2033 and Las Vegas has long been buried beneath the sands of the Nevada desert. How did this happen? The secret, you find, is locked within an electronic scrapbook. This scrapbook, a hand-cranked slot machine, has been built piece by piece over the course of fifty lonely years by the quietest man who ever died in Vegas: the surly curator of the deserted Motel Real. His secret lies in your hands and on your screen. You wander through fifty-two stories, inside fifty-two rooms, through fifty-two rumors that keep you in the peculiar presence of the Reals Las Vegas. The story unfolds through tabloid clippings, drawings scribbled on napkins and coded in electronic toys. How much you discover depends on how lightly you are willing to skim the surface of every face and every word. The Real, Las Vegas, Nevada is an electronic artists book featuring the writing of Mark C. Taylor and Jose Marquez, illustrated by Ralph Kelliher and Jose Marquez, and programmed by Noah Peeters. A multimedia CD-ROM, The Real runs on both Windows 95 and Macintosh OS platforms. It is published jointly by Williams College Museum of Art and Massachusetts Museum of Contemporary Art and distributed by the University of Chicago Press. Minimum system requirements: Windows: 90mhz Pentium processor with Windows 95, 8MB of RAM, 3MB of free hard disk space, HiColor (16 bit) 640x480 size monitor, 2X CD-ROM drive. MAC: Power Mac (or clone) running System 7.0.1, 8MB of RAM, 3MB of free hard disk space, monitor with 16 bit (thousands of colors) at 640x480 size, double speed CD-ROM drive.
