

All About Upholstering

This book is written primarily for the home craftsman, the homemaker, the student and apprentice upholsterer, to acquaint them with the tools, materials and basic principles used in upholstery. Long a neglected skill, upholstery furniture with the help and guidance given in this book can be a source of great satisfaction to the home craftsman. The student and apprentice will find the information in this book a practical supplement to their current training. Subjects covered in the book: an introduction to upholstery including the various types of seats; tools, materials and frames; the upholstery procedure including webbing, slip seats, padded seats and backs, springing, padding over springs, arms and wings, and loose cushions; finishing touches including trim, final cover and channels and tufting; the repair, restyling and slip covering of furniture; and specialized newer methods and materials.
