With limited powers and his own existence in serious danger, can he find the love in his heart and the power in his soul to save her? Scheharazade Scheri Bloom is on the run after marrying the man of her dreams...a wealthy lawyer who turns out to be more like a monster from her nightmares. After enduring the first of many of his psychotic rages and physical abuse, she soon suspects he may have murdered his last girlfriend and finds herself living in fear for her own life and forced to be a prisoner in her own home, because no matter how many times she tries to escape, he has the money, power and connections to have her tracked down and brought back. After finally finding a way to escape, she takes to the road and with the little bit of money shed saved up running out fast, she soon finds herself drawn to a small-town carnival, where she hopes to make a few untraceable dollars working a ride or concession stand. Instead she meets the enigmatic and egotistical magician known as Z. Amazed by Zs skills in illusions, like the audiences who come to see him day in and day out, she soon finds herself in danger again...not so much from her abusive husband as from everything she doesnt want to feel from the moment she lays eyes on the handsome entertainer who looks like an Arabian Knight come to life and seems to sense every secret she cant tell him about herself.

What Scheri doesnt know is that that Azizi abd al Jadu, the man known as Z is harboring a few secrets himself. Magic is real, and not all illusions are smoke and mirrors. Z is no mortal man, but a half-breed Ifrit Jinn....a down on his luck genie, living as a carny here in the world of man. Born out of the forbidden love of a Jinn and a disobedient Angel, he is on the run from his own kind for refusing to abide the laws of both Jinn and Allahs Watchers. And after breaking their First Law and taking human form of his own free will to come through the large gold mirror that is his portal into the world of humans....he finds his once vast powers limited by the mortal realm and all the wondrous and distracting sensations of a human body. Z has little interest in being anyones savior...but when Scheris husband finally tracks her down with the help of one of Zs most dangerous enemies, Z soon finds that its going to take more than magic to protect the woman who has stolen the heart he didnt know he had. Can he somehow regain the power he needs to save her before its too late?
