

Typee: A romance of the South Seas (World Classics)

Typee, aka A Peep at Polynesian Life, is Herman Melville's first book, partly based on his actual experiences as a captive on the island Nuku Hiva in the South Pacific. It was Melville's most popular work during his lifetime, and made him known as the man who lived among the cannibals. The novel is considered one of the greatest classics in the literature of travel and adventure.
