

The Man in the Moon, Vol. 2: Or, Travels Into the Lunar Regions, by the Man of the People (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from The Man in the Moon, Vol. 2: Or, Travels Into the Lunar Regions, by the Man of the People Intense thought soon becomes painful: and no instruction can make a deep impression unless the mind is frequently relaxed by amusing objects. You shall now make a short tour with me through part of my dominions. I will introduce you to some good company. Know that a very great number of human souls, after death, come into these variegated regions, some to undergo punishment and purification; others to enjoy the rewards that follow the culture of science and the practice of virtue. The former are confined for ages in what astronomers have called the Mare Crisium. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
